GREAT ALASKAN EARTHQUAKE.

Account of One of Ten Greatest Earthquakes at Yakutat Bay, Alaska.

Uncle Sam has for sale copies of a report by the United States Geological Survey, of the Department of the Interior, on one of the ten greatest earthquakes of historic times—that in the Yakutat Bay region of Alaska.

The Yakutat Bay earthquake occurred on September 8, 1899, and was followed during the next three weeks by many less violent shocks. The area of greatest intensity lay along the flanks of the St. Elias Range, in a region of high mountains and superb glaciers, and the movement was accompanied by enormous avalanches and rock slides. This was a vivid demonstration that the growth of mountains is still in progress. At some places in the region the land subsided and forests were submerged. At most places, however, the land rose, and many points which before had lain below sea level were elevated above it. Barnacles which had lived in ocean water were found 47 feet above the sea.

In addition to making an exhaustive study of the movements of the land which took place in the Yakutat Bay region and of the effects of the earthquake on the many minerals of the region, the writers amassed a great fund of information in regard to the intensity of the quake throughout the whole area, within which it was possible and recorded the testimony of many witnesses. The shock was felt at distances of 720 and 1,200 miles in opposite directions from Yakutat Bay, and the area of the region over which the tremblings were felt is more than 4,500,000 square miles. This gives the Yakutat Bay earthquake a place among the very greatest earthquakes of historic times. Previous great shocks, without exception, resulted in heavy loss of life, the number of persons killed reaching in one of them the enormous total of over 50,000.

The Yakutat Bay shock was fortunately free from fatalities because the region in which it occurred is sparsely settled.

This report—"The Earthquakes at Yakutat Bay, Alaska, in September, 1899"—is illustrated with numerous views, showing the effects of the earthquake, and with maps of the region and seismograms of the shock as recorded at places as far distant as Batavia, Java; Cape Town, South Africa, and Catania, Italy. The report may be obtained from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C., at a cost of 50 cents in paper and 75 cents in cloth binding.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NEEDS.

To Be Investigated Before Action Is Taken on Fire Truck Appropriation.

An investigation as to the needs of the fire department and its ability, with its present apparatus, to give adequate protection to the property of the city and a review of the city's finances to determine whether such an appropriation at this time will precede action on the petition of 150 citizens to the common council for action leading to an appropriation not to exceed $2,500 for the purchase of another automobile fire truck. Action for the purchase of another automobile fire truck was taken several days ago following a discussion as to the city's need of one by officials of the chamber of commerce.

When the petition came before the common council, Alderman George L. Padgett said that he was in favor of such fire protection, but he believed that the needs of the department should first be investigated and also information secured as to the city's financial condition at this time to warrant such an expenditure.

Upon his motion the matter was referred to the fire committee of the common council and a special committee, these to investigate as suggested. This joint committee is to have the honor of calling the citizens together for a discussion of the matter, if it deems such action advisable, and a report on the investigation is to be made at the January meeting of the council, if possible. Mayor McGarry named Alderman Padgett and Mayor McGarry members of the finance committee, in accordance with the resolution.

Reappointed Water Commissioner.
At the same session of the common council Mayor J. J. McGarry named G. Harold Gilpatrick to succeed himself as water commissioner. Mr. Gilpatrick's present term expires next month.

A restraining order forbidding the city from paying any money to the receiver of the Pierson Engineering company was filed. This concern, which filed suit to prevent the city from paying to the city about $100.

Property abutters on Ravine street petitioned for street lights, the petition being referred to committee.

Highway Department Has Balance.
Chairman Davis complimented the highway department for its good work and declared he was much pleased. This department has a balance of $500 which it is blessed to carry it through the year and meet the probable cost of snow removal. The de-days of this week the number of orders issued was nearly double the normal, and a further increase is looked for as the holiday approaches.

The usual admonitions as to wrapping parcels stoutly and marking them carefully is being given this year by the postoffice department. Heeding of the advice to be careful relative to shipping packages will almost insure arrival in good condition at the point of destination.
